CURRENT POSITION

2021 - Now

PO Consultant

As a consultant, I've had the opportunity to work on Scrum related missions for the likes of BNP Paribas, AXA or Onomo Hotels.

I've had to take a central position between the clients and my development teams.

My tasks can be summed up as gaining an understanding of the products that my clients wished and imagined in order to translate the visions they had in their minds into something that is easily understandable for my development teams.

I would then make sure that the client would get a working increment of the product regularly rather than waiting until the end of the product so that we could co-construct their product, and give them visibility on the development team's work.
